A boy proudly wears and finds many uses for the yellow construction hat he found--but eventually its owner appears. The Beats go on.
This intimate book joins photographs by Allen Ginsberg of both himself and his cronies with text by his translator, Italy's legendary literary journalist, Fernanda Pivano, to provide a remarkable document of the time. Ginsberg recorded in "Howl" the indelible portrait of an era, beginning, "I saw the best minds of my generation destroyed by madness." But Ginsberg was also looking at his cohorts through his viewfinder and recording them in astonishing historical snapshots that testify to his artistry in this medium. From late-night diners to San Francisco streets to East Village apartments to Moroccan villas, Ginsberg captured the free-spirited and sometimes haunted men and women who would change literary history. Echoing the openness and spontaneity for which the Beats were known, these photographs show iconic figures at ease and unrest: Gregory Corso, in brilliant chiaroscuro, eats a grape in a 1957 picture that could have been modeled after an ancient Roman fresco; William Burroughs' steely, suspicious gaze stares directly at Ginsberg's camera; and Kerouac smokes on the fire escape of Ginsberg's East 7th Street apartment. Ginsberg's hand-lettered captions identify moments from the 1950s to the 1980s, and Pivano's essays add context and vivid memories from someone who was there from the very beginning. A book dedicated to a true milestone in the history of the Innocenti scooter: "Scooterlinea 1962", a thoroughly revised Lambretta that was a protagonist on the worldwide scooter scene of the Sixties. Technically known as the "Series III", the new Lambretta was launched late in 1961, initially with the two 125 and 150 cc displacements, later joined by the 175 TV in the spring of 1962. The third title in the series dedicated to the most important Lambrettas (which include the Lambretta Lui and the Lambretta TV/LI Series I), celebrates a model characterised by sleek and aggressive bodywork and equipped with a front disc brake and an extremely high level of fittings and finish. Written by Vittorio Tessera, the leading Lambretta historian, the book reviews the complete industrial, technical and social history of the Scooterlinea, drawing on hundreds of previously unpublished contemporary photos in black and white and colour. L'auteur aborde dans ce recueil de nouvelles une constante thématique fondamentale de son oeuvre : celle du dédoublement, par lequel le Moi découvre la présence d'un territoire secret inconnu. In the history of the Lambretta, the TV and LI Series I laid the foundations of a new engineering concept that revolutionised the traditional model with shaft drive, sold from 1947 to 1958 in hundreds of thousands of examples. There were numerous innovations characterising this new series of models: the engine adopted a duplex chain transmission with a four-speed gearbox and the cylinder was set horizontally, while in terms of the chassis, the most significant novelties concerned the larger 10" wheels and the dimensions of the bodywork. No less important were the improvements to the rear suspension, which abandoned the famous torsion bar for a more efficient motorcycle-style spring-damper unit. For the first time a Lambretta reached a displacement of 170 cc and could offer high performance with a maximum speed of over 100 kph. This model, which went head-to-head with the Vespa 150 GS, is without doubt one of the most sought-after by collectors today. Even the more tranquil LI 125 and 150 were extremely successful, with thousands of examples of this exceptional Innocenti scooter still on the roads today, appreciated for their incredible robustness and stability. Vittorio Tesserà, "Mr Lambretta", covers the entire technical, industrial and social history of these models, while the book is illustrated with hundreds of photographs. Introduction by Christoph Eggenberger. Texts by Bice Curiger, Jaqueline Burckhardt, Isabel Schulz and Werner Hofmann among others. Swiss artist Meret Oppenheim remained for a long time in the shadow of the surrealists who were her friends. When, in 1936, she made the "fur teacup", however, she created an icon of twentieth-century art. The fame she gained for her "fur teacup" as well as Man Ray's photographs of her from the 1930s caused her to become an icon herself. In this beautiful and thorough retrospective of her work, Oppenheim's geometric and organic sculptures, drawings, collages and objects merit attention beyond the confines of surrealism, addressing themes such as the role of women as artists and the individual in relation to Nature. Bilingual collection of poetry, English and Italian, written on the California Desert from the year 2013 to 2015. Traveling in the light of the desert is nothing less than a poetic meditation on the landscape as well as the self. The space around and inside is observed as seemingly moving in and out of dreams, and of spiritual and geographical realities. Above all is serenity and the choice to live in the present fully, leaving the past behind. Silence and the vast spaces are admired and invoked as well as the chasing of the white spaces between letters or the sandy spaces laying between one village and another. The texts of the poems, linear and minimal, leaves room for the reader to be led on a personal journey. The placement of the words on paper induces the reader to read the poems multiple times during which the sense of the poem will change. You can travel being still, thanks to the writing. The text collected here are a total of eighty, forty poems in each language. Raccolta di poesia bilingue, inglese e italiano, scritta on the road in California dall'anno 2013 al 2015. Il viaggio nella luce e nel deserto è una meditazione poetica sul paesaggio come sul sé. Si osserva lo spazio intorno e interno, si entra ed esce da sogni come da realtà spirituali e geografiche. Pervade la serenità e la scelta di vivere il presente pienamente lasciando i problemi al passato. I testi delle poesie lineari e minimalisti lasciano spazio al lettore per essere condotto lui stesso in un viaggio personale, come la scelta della posizione delle parole sul foglio incita a riletture durante le quali il senso della poesia cambierà di volta in volta. Si ammirano i silenzi raccontati e invocati, li si inseguono come gli spazi bianchi tra le lettere o gli spazi sabbiosi tra un centro abitato e un altro. Si viaggia da fermi, grazie allo stile di scrittura per immagini. I testi raccolti sono un totale di ottanta, quaranta in ciascuna lingua.
